access, communication & collaboration

Students have been provided a device and Wifi access per request.

We are implementing use of Schoology, per teacher request. Schoology increases our opportunities to communicate with parents about student daily progress. It also provides teachers a more effective online platform for student learning and interdisciplinary collaboration. Schoology also allows application integration of adopted curricular programs utilized by students. The platform is similar to platforms used at the college level for virtual learning.

Performance Matters is a data platform. It provides staff, the student, and parent with detailed data about the whole child with the opportunity to demonstrate correlation between absences, support services, discipline, grades, and assessments. We will also be able to identify student learning gaps and learning loss by standards. Reports will be available individually, group, class, grade, site, and district.

These tools will help us monitor and communicate more effectively about student progress even during distance learning. Teacher, students and parents have accessibility to the data to make targeted informed decisions to increase student performance outcomes.
